PERIOD OF DEDICATION OF THE CHURCH

This period celebrates the final glorification of the Church, founded by the Father, established by the Son, and sanctified by the Holy Spirit. Church, the bride of Christ sanctified and saved by Christ, is eagerly waiting for her union with Him in His heavenly bridal chamber where she will be glorified for eternity. This intimate relationship with Christ is continued through sacraments, especially through baptism and Eucharist. The sacramental life helps to live up the paschal mysteries of Christ in life in order to attain the eternal glory in the heavenly bridal chamber at the end of the world.

The Church is worthy for it, because she is the mystical body of Christ, redeemed with His own body and blood. Hence her glory is the same as that of Christ. The ultimate goal of redemption is the union of all the faithful with the heavenly Bridegroom. Though it is a reality to be fulfilled at the eschatological consummation of everything in Christ, its foretasting in life takes place in liturgical celebrations and sacramental life today. This awaiting heavenly glory, which no eyes have seen, no ears heard, and no heart experienced shall never be missed, should be the Christian challenge in life in order to attain salvation meeting the Lord face to face in heaven, singing praises, honor, adoration, and thanksgiving for Him forever and ever.
